Ultimate Camp Clinics

This is a 5-day clinic offered once a month held at Reed Valley Ranch.

We go through what to do in the round pen and how it transfers to the saddle. How to get control of all 5 body parts - learn how to safely make the appropriate corrections for issues and get more control whether you ride arena, trail or compete. We go from the round pen to the arena to obstacles and finally work cows on the final day. The difference is the riders from day 1 to day 5 is amazing.

Participation is limited to 4 riders
Visit my website for schedule of dates.

Now is the time to work through your challenges and move forward with your horsemanship skills to build that partnership that you are looking for. It just takes getting in the saddle - it takes time and commitment - make the commitment today and reach the goals you have set for yourself - Just make that next step towards confidence and growth.

I'm here to help you every step of the way.

The weather makes a great opportunity for training - It snowed but didnt stop our training session - what is keeping you out of the saddle?
